

Leidos Pledges Support to America's Workers

October 31, 2018

Company pledges support to more than 2,100 individuals over five years

RESTON, Va., Oct. 31, 2018 /PRNewswire/ -- Leidos (NYSE: LDOS), a FORTUNE® 500 science and technology leader today announced its commitment to support the White House Pledge to America's Workers. Company representatives attended a pledge signing today alongside other companies and associations.

Leidos pledges to invest in the advancement of its current and future workforce by providing individuals with opportunities to develop skills that will help them succeed, not just in their current role, but throughout their careers.

Leidos is investing in both students and workers by providing opportunities for education and training that will help more Americans thrive in the modern workplace. Specifically, over the next five years, the company will work to create enhanced career opportunities for 2,125 individuals, including through increased apprenticeships and work-based learning programs, continuing education, on-the-job training and re-skilling.

"We live in an uncertain and evolving world that is becoming more digital and more connected at ever-increasing speeds, and we need a skilled workforce equipped to tackle the corresponding challenges," said Roger Krone, Leidos Chairman & Chief Executive Officer. "A strong national strategy for workforce development gives Leidos, and ultimately our country, the best chance to lead in the global, digital economy."

Leidos is a leader in supporting employee learning and workforce development. The company is committed to the development of employees with some of the focus comprised of the following: certified program managers, scrum masters and product owners (for Agile development), system engineers, and developing a pipeline of interns to be hired as full-time employees upon graduation from college. Leidos was recently included in Forbes World's Best Employers, Forbes America's Best Employers, Forbes Best Employer for Diversity, Forbes inaugural list for Best Employer for Women, and the Military Times Best For Vets Employer.
