

Leidos Awarded Prime Contract to Support Helicopters and Fixed-Wing Aircraft for Afghanistan Air Force

October 24, 2017

RESTON, Va., Oct. 24, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Leidos (NYSE: LDOS), a FORTUNE 500® science and technology company, was awarded a prime contract by the U.S. Army to support the Afghanistan Air Force (AAF) and Special Mission Wing (SMW) helicopter and fixed-wing fleets. Work will be performed in Kabul, Afghanistan, with an estimated completion date of May 31, 2020 at a total potential contract value up to $728 million.

Through the Afghanistan Contractor Logistics Support contract, Leidos will deliver all flight operations, maintenance, and logistics, and will provide mentoring for the AAF and SMW to operate and maintain aircraft. Leidos has applied its logistics and operations expertise in Afghanistan to support the AAF and SMW, while also providing aviation services to the customer.

"This award reflects our commitment to the customer's mission," said Leidos Defense & Intelligence President Tim Reardon. "We look forward to continuing to provide superior flight operations, maintenance, logistics, and mentoring expertise."
