

Leidos Honored on Healthcare Informatics 100 List

June 1, 2017

Company Recognized as One of the Top Health IT Organizations

RESTON, Va., June 1, 2017 /PRNewswire/ -- Leidos (NYSE: LDOS), a global science and technology company, has been included on the annual Healthcare Informatics 100 list. This feature is a compilation of the top health IT companies based on health IT revenues from the most recent fiscal year.

Leidos, which ranked nine on the list, provides services and solutions to commercial and government clients in information technology, biomedical research, and public health. From conducting groundbreaking research to fight diseases such as cancer and AIDS, to implementing and optimizing electronic health records, Leidos provides solutions focused on improving patient care and reducing cost. The company provides a broad range of capabilities for hospitals and health systems and also develops and supports large-scale technology programs for every U.S. federal agency focused on health, including the Department of Defense, Veterans Affairs, and Health and Human Services.

"Our brilliant scientists and technical experts use their vast experience to keep us on the forefront of healthcare technology so we can devise the most innovative solutions for our customers," said Leidos Health President Jon Scholl. "Our presence on this list emphasizes the importance of the work we do, not only for the company, but to improve the health of people around the world."
