

Department of Veterans Affairs Awards Leidos Prime Contract

July 19, 2016

Company to Provide Technical Solutions under the Transformation Twenty-One Total Technology Next Generation (T4NG) Program

RESTON, Va., July 19, 2016 /PRNewswire/ -- Leidos (NYSE: LDOS), a health, national security, and infrastructure solutions company, was awarded a prime contract by the Department of Veterans Affairs (VA) to provide technical solutions under the VA Transformation Twenty-One Total Technology Next Generation (T4NG) program. The multiple-award indefinite-delivery/indefinite-quantity contract has a five-year base period of performance, one five-year option period, and a total contract value of approximately $22 billion for all awardees, if the option is exercised. Leidos is one of 24 contractors eligible to compete for work under the contract.

The T4NG contract supports the Department's MyVA transformation effort, improving the way VA serves Veterans. Under the contract Leidos will provide information technology services; project management; strategy/planning; systems/software engineering; enterprise network engineering; cybersecurity; and other IT- and health-IT related technical support.

"Leidos has had the privilege of providing information technology solutions to the Department of Veterans Affairs for the last 5 years under the T4 contract, and we are proud to continue that service under the T4NG program," said Leidos Health and Infrastructure Group President, Jon Scholl.
