

SAIC Awarded Joint Project Manager Information Systems Task Order

December 17, 2007

SAN DIEGO and MCLEAN, Va., Dec. 17 /PRNewswire-FirstCall/ -- Science Applications International Corporation (NYSE: SAI) today announced that it won a cost-plus-fixed-fee task order under the Seaport Enhanced program (Seaport-e) from the Space and Naval Warfare Systems Command, San Diego to support the Joint Project Manager Information Systems (JPMIS) program.

This single-award task order has a one-year base period and four one-year options with an estimated total value of more than $70 million if all options are exercised. Work will be conducted primarily in San Diego.

Under this Seaport-e task order, SAIC will provide management services in the following areas: program, acquisition, production, contracts, financial, logistics, configuration, quality, and systems engineering for multiple chemical, biological, radiological and nuclear information technology programs.

"SAIC is pleased to continue its support of the JPMIS effort," said Tom Baybrook, SAIC senior vice president and business unit manager. "This win enables us to continue to help support JPMIS' mission of transforming operational needs into effective and affordable chemical and biological capabilities for U.S. military and our allies.

SAIC is a leading provider of scientific, engineering, systems integration and technical services and solutions to all branches of the U.S. military, agencies of the Department of Defense, the intelligence community, the U.S. Department of Homeland Security and other U.S. Government civil agencies, as well as to customers in selected commercial markets. With approximately 44,000 employees in more than 150 cities worldwide, SAIC engineers and scientists solve complex technical challenges requiring innovative solutions for customers' mission-critical functions. SAIC had annual revenues of $8.3 billion for its fiscal year ended January 31, 2007. SAIC: FROM SCIENCE TO SOLUTIONS(R)
